Fierce Fighting Reported Between Japanese and Russia Squadrons Today.

Desperate Fight at Vafangow---Russian Generals Killed in Battle.

PORT ARTHUR HARBOR "UNBOTTLED" AGAIN

London, June 15.—The Tokio correspondent of the Central News wires that a naval battle is proceeding off the island of Tsu Shima, between Japan and Korea, between the cruisers of the Russian Vladivostok squadron and the Japanese vessels.

There are no details. An earlier dispatch stated that the Russian fleet escaped from Vladivostok and is now at sea, and later cannonading was heard northwest of Nagato.

PORT ARTHUR'S PERIL.

Rome, June 15.—A message from Chefoo says that the Japanese here succeeded in placing fifty-two large siege guns on the heights north of Port Arthur. The people have escaped from the Port, says the message, and only the combatants remain there. There is merely sufficient provisions to last six weeks.

THE CORK OUT OF THE BOTTLE.

Tokio, June 15.—A dispatch just received states that the entrance to Port Arthur harbor is again open and the Russian cruiser Novik emerged Tuesday and engaged the Japanese fleet.

RUSSIANS KILLED IN BATTLE.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—Emperor Nicholas yesterday received the following from Lieutenant General Baron Stakelberg:

"A battle began at noon around the Russian position, four and a half miles south of the station at Vafangow, the enemy making repeated attempts to dislodge our left flank. The attack was repelled and we retained our position.

"The First Regiment, occupying the left flank of our position, sustained severe losses. Its commander, Colonel Khavantouff and Adjutant Sub-Lieutenant Dragosloff Nodochinsky were killed. General Genngross was wounded, a shrapnel bullet shattering the right side of his jaw, but he remained on the field."

REPORTED JAPANESE REVERSES

Chefoo, June 15.—A report from Russian sources states that the Japanese suffered a severe reverse north of Kinchou but there is no confirmation of the report.

GENERAL ENGAGEMENT REPORTED.

London, June 15.—A dispatch from Liao Yang says that heavy firing between the Russians and Japanese vanguards commenced at 1:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The fighting extended along the entire front, assuming the dimensions of a general engagement. The correspondent says that no details are available.

A NEW WRINKLE

HOOSIERS OPEN A DANCE WITH PRAYER.

Brazil, Ind., June 15.—A dance given by the Pastime club of Knightsville was opened with prayer by the pastor of the Methodist church as a compromise with the young folks who were members of the club and church. When the dance was announced there was a division, followed by warm words, the older members supporting the pastor in opposition. The dance was given with the pastor and other members attending in a body and opening the festivities with prayer, and with authority to stop the fun if it became to their eyes unseemly. The waltzes were played slowly and there was no interruption. There is still much feeling, however.

WILL DESTROY THE GUN.

Lexington, Ky., June 15.—Police Judge John J. Riley created a sensation in the police court by stating that hereafter when a man was before him for carrying concealed deadly weapons the offender would be given the limit of the law in fines and the weapon would be destroyed by an officer in the presence of the court.

HUNDREDS PERISH IN STEAMBOAT DISASTER

General Slocum With 1600 New York Excursionists Burns.

Many Jumped and Were Drowned, and Others Remained and Burned to Death.

FIVE HUNDRED REPORTED TO HAVE PERISHED

New York, June 15.—The steamboat General Slocum left this morning for Locust Grove with sixteen hundred passengers, mostly women and children of the St. Mark's Lutheran church.

When near North Brothers' Island the boat took fire in her upper decks, creating a panic.

The pilot steered for a shore under a full head of steam, which hastened the spread of the flames which by this time were licking the huge boat from stem to stern.

Scores jumped over board and were drowned, while other terror-stricken women and children huddled together on the steamer and were burned to death.

Many were caught floating in the water and picked up in boats and saved, and it is impossible at present to determine how many lost their lives.

The scene in the vicinity is too terrible to depict. The police state that five hundred were lost by drowning or burning, but it is hoped this will prove to be an exaggeration.

The owners of the boat received a message at noon that she burned to the water's edge and the hull is still burning.

A telephone message from the Island says that the water is full of mangled and blackened corpses.

3 p. m.—The latest estimate of the loss of life is between four and five hundred.

The hull is still burning and it is thought many bodies will be found when the flames are extinguished.

Fully 150 bodies are already recovered, many of them children.

Boats which hurried to the scene rescued many who jumped into the water to escape the flames.

The fire was first discovered among the life preservers, but the cause is unknown.

Captain Vanschaick and the two pilots of the boat were arrested.

The injured include almost every one rescued.

ILLINOIS WENT FOR W. R. HEARST

Politicians Ruled With an Iron Hand.

Carter Harrison Delegation Unseated—Disgraceful Scenes Enacted.

THE TICKET NOMINATED

Springfield, Ill., June 15.—The Democratic convention was one of the most disgraceful in history. John P. Quinn, of Peoria, ruled without regard to men or motions, and the Hopkins crowd carried everything.

Carter Harrison, of Chicago, was unseated as a delegate and returned home without going to the convention. John P. Hopkins, of Chicago, will succeed himself as chairman of the state central committee.

The convention instructed for Hearst and nominated the following ticket:

Governor—Lawrence Stringer of Lincoln.

Lieutenant Governor—Thomas J. Ferns of Jerseyville.

Secretary of State—Frank E. Dooling of Sangamon county.

State Treasurer—Charles B. Thomas of McLeansboro.

Attorney General—Albert Watson of Jefferson county.

The report of the committee on credentials was brief and pithy.

It simply said: "We believe everything done by the state central committee in seating and unseating delegates was just and proper, and we recommend that its work be indorsed. Then came bedlam. The Harrison and Hearst people shrieked 'roll call,' jumped up and down in their chairs, yelled 'robbers,' 'thieves' and a few other things less polite. They were so wrathful that they could not wait to listen to the reading of a minority report, which recommended action opposite to the report first read. When quiet was finally restored the yeas and nays on the substitution of the minority for the majority was called for and it was lost.

JIM HOWARD

Frankfort, June 15.—The court of appeals today overruled the petition for a re-hearing in the case of James Howard given a life sentence, for alleged complicity in the murder of William Gobel.

JUDGE PARKER

SERBIAN PEOPLE

Belgrade, June 15.—The anniversary of the enthronement of King Peter is being celebrated with general festivities throughout the country. Everything has thus far passed off orderly.

WILL RECOMMEND THE DOUBLE TRACKS

Board of Public Works Not Decided on Widening Broadway.

Favors Requiring the Street Car Company to Pay for Paving Between Tracks.

THE BOARD MEETS TONIGHT

The most important matter to come up tonight before the board of public works at its regular meeting, is the widening of Broadway and the double tracking of the street car line at least as far beyond Fifth street as Broadway is paved.

It is not certain what will be recommended by the board, except that it will recommend the double tracks. It is yet undecided whether it is advisable to widen the street, or to double track the thoroughfare at its present width. It is likely, however, that the board will in any event recommend that the street car company pay for the paving between its tracks, which would save the city considerable money.

It is likely that in the near future the company will take up the matter of providing a better system of transferring on Broadway. One plan suggested is to build belt lines around on Kentucky avenue to Fourth or Sixth street, and run all the cars around that way, instead of stopping on lower Broadway and changing the trolley. One trouble about requiring the street car company to pay for part of the paving is that if the street is widened and it has to pay for the additional property used to add to the thoroughfare's width, which it has proposed to do it might object to the other. The charter requires the property owner to pay half and the city half of all street reconstruction, which would prevent the city requiring the company to pay any part of the paving.

The board of public works will likely not undertake any improvements at the city light plant this year, as there is no available appropriation. The city needs more lights and the plant is already taxed to its fullest capacity. Next year new and better machinery will be recommended.

A serious problem that confronts the health authorities and board of works is how to drain the Home of the Friendless, in the West End. The slops and water from the sink have been run into the gutters, threatening the contamination of the entire neighborhood. A dry well has been suggested, but dry wells are against the law. It is probable, however, that a dry well will be permitted in this case as the best way out of the dilemma.

CONTRACTORS' CHILD DIES.

Lucille Gardner, the 14-month-old daughter of Mr. George Gardner, a well known contractor, died this morning at 2004 Bridge street of stomach trouble. The burial will take place tomorrow afternoon at Oak Grove.

ROUSTER STOPS LEADEN MISS

Possibly Fatal Shooting on Wharf Today.

Sam Taw and Joe Casey Quarrel Work and One Returns with a Gun.

TAW MADE HIS ESCAPE

A shooting scrape occurred on wharfboat about 8 o'clock this morning and Joe Casey, of Clifton, was shot in the right breast by Sam Taw. Both were romping on steamer Clyde and had previous to shooting quarreled, it is alleged some of the work required of them.

They were separated, however, before they came to blows, and Casey claimed he thought no more about it until Taw returned with a pistol and opened fire on him, one shot taking effect in his right breast. Taw ran up the hill and disappeared, but officers have reason to believe he is still hiding in the city.

The shooting attracted quite a crowd, and the wounded man was taken to the city hospital in the police wagon. An examination of his injuries indicate that they will prove fatal unless blood poisoning develops. Taw is said to live in Paducah.

Dr. Horace Rivers, who made an examination of the wound, states that the bullet passed through the right arm and then struck a rib, ranging downward and inside the breast. The bullet was lost. He said that it could not be found without a surgical incision into the chest, and that it does not think the injury is fatal. This afternoon Casey unexpectedly got out of bed, left the city hospital and started for town, saying he had money coming to him off the Clyde and was going to get it before the boat pulled out tonight. This action may reduce his chances of recovery.

HEARTY WELCOME FOR 30,000 VETS

One of the Largest Confederate Reunions Ever Held.

Nashville in Gala Attire—General Gordon Is Greatly Misled.

MEETS NEXT AT LOUISVILLE

Nashville, Tenn., June 15.—Under every condition tending to a successful reunion, Nashville officially welcomed the United Confederate Veterans and their friends, constituting a host conservatively estimated at 30,000 people. The exercises of the day took place in the tabernacle and every bit of space was taken long before the veterans were called to order by General George W. Gordon, of Memphis, commander of the Tennessee division.

It was the first convention in the history of the organization that the Sons of Veterans sat with their fathers and the cheers from the throats of the younger generations at almost every expression by those who took part in the strife forty years ago made it manifest that the spirit of '61 would be perpetuated in generations to come. California was represented on the floor; from far off Montana a delegation was sent and Ohio was on hand with four delegates.

It is the fourteenth annual meeting and the first at which the distinguished cavalry officer, John B. Gordon, did not preside.

The association today elected General Stephen D. Lee commander-in-chief by acclamation. The next reunion is to be held at Louisville.

Miss Alice Willis, of Metropolis, is visiting in the city.

NEGRESS HANGED AND SHOT BY MOB

Bloodthirsty Woman Who Killed Farmer Lynched Last Night.

Rope Broke and Bullitt County Mob Riddled Her Body with Bullets.

CORONER FINDS HER ALIVE

Lebanon Junction, Ky., June 15.—Maria Thompson, a negress, was taken from jail here this morning about 2 o'clock by a mob and hanged to a tree.

The weight of the woman broke the rope, and the terrified victim was held for some time while the neighborhood was searched for another one, and then, being unable to find one, the mob riddled her body with bullets and left.

At 6 o'clock the coroner, who had been notified, went to hold an inquest and found the woman still alive, but dying.

The crime for which the mob lynched her was almost severing the head of John Irvin, a wealthy farmer, with a razor, late yesterday.

She slipped up behind him while he was at work in the field and cut his head almost off, the farmer living but ten minutes.

She made an effort to escape but was caught and lodged in jail.

The cause of her heinous deed is unknown, but is said to have been a scolding he gave the woman's son for some trivial offense.

The greatest excitement prevailed after the crime, and the lynching was not much of a surprise.

Mrs. Sam S. Miller, of Louisville, is visiting her brother, Mr. P. E. State.

THE LAWYER'S ADVICE

STEWART EDWARD WHITE
Author of "The Blazed Trail."

"Young man, do you know of a book called 'The Blazed Trail'?"

"Yes, I know of it," said White; "in fact—"

"If you haven't read that story," broke in the man, "you ought to get out at the next station and get it. I've recommended it to every man of my acquaintance, particularly the young men. But you particularly ought to read it, for you're interested in lumber—I suppose you are in the business—and, as a picture of forest and lumber camp life, it's wonderful. I tell you, young man—"

"Excuse me," interrupted White, in some confusion; "but the fact is I wrote 'The Blazed Trail'."

The older man looked at him hard, and then his eyes twinkled. "I'll send you a bill later for the work I have done in booming it," he said.

HOPPERS DEFEATED.

Hopkinsville started the series yesterday by giving the Indians a tussle at league park in the presence of a large crowd, including many ladies. The visitors played a stiff game, but were shut out until the ninth inning, when Brady became too sure and allowed them three hits, two singles and a double, which netted them two runs. The plucky little pitcher then got down to business and saved the day.

The game was an errorless one for Paducah, and the hitting was good and timely. Still, it was no picnic for the locals, Hopkinton having probably one of the best teams in the league.

Land's large proportions seem to be a point in favor when he faces a pitcher. He has hit out some terrific drives and Kitty League pitchers are wary of him.

How the "Big Man" Looks to Kitty League Pitchers.

When the Indians took yesterday's game from the Lunatics they duplicated the feat of the Pittsburgh National League team last season when it took thirteen straight games. This is something rarely ever accomplished and the Indians may justly feel proud of it.

Sherman is the fastest base runner in the league and has more stolen bases to his credit than any other man in the league, it is said. Yesterday he got three to his credit and two were stolen in one inning, Sherman taking second and then third.

Sherman Taking a Lead of First Base.

Potts is undoubtedly the fastest second baseman in the league and is ever ready to accept any kind of a chance. When they go into his territory the spectators may rest assured they will be cared for.

Potts Getting in Front of a "Smoker."

The Indians are playing the right quality of ball and the fans are contented. Cairo is in second place which keeps up the rivalry between the veteran foes. Paducah players are fast fielders, excellent base runners and good hitters, all backed up by several "old heads," among which Violet, Gilligan, Brady and McGill, are conspicuous. As long as the boys put up the article of ball they are playing now, the fans will be satisfied.

A STRONG STATEMENT

FROM A PROMINENT LAWYER OF MEXICO, MO., ENDORSING

FOERG'S REMEDY

The Great Blood Purifier.

CAPT. C. T. ALLEN, Mexico, Mo.
Lawyer, Soldier, Legislator, Lecturer.

MEXICO, MO., Aug. 25, 1903.

I knew Philip Foerg, of Princeton, Ky., for thirty years. He was my neighbor and friend. I knew that he originated and, after many years of persistent effort, perfected "Foerg's Remedy." So highly did I appreciate it as a perfect and complete remedy for all kinds and degrees of blood impurities that I endeavored, twenty years or more ago, to organize a joint-stock company to place this wonderful remedy on the world's market. Mr. Foerg very properly declined to surrender the formula for making the remedy unless a sufficient amount of paid-up stock was raised, etc., and this I failed to do. Then Mr. Foerg himself, in a limited way, made and sold it for twenty years before his death. By his will he left the formula for making this remedy to Mr. Hugh Mayes, of Princeton, Ky., now Secretary and Treasurer of "The Foerg Remedy Company," Evansville, Ind. I know it to be a fact that Mr. Foerg for twenty years offered $1,000 spot cash (he was amply able to make such an offer) for any case based on blood impurity which his remedy would not cure, and I know that he was often challenged to the contest, and he never lost a case.

With the above information before you, if you go on suffering from the curse of poisoned blood, either primary, constitutional or as a result of mercurial treatment, don't rail at fate but simply blame yourself, for here is a cure—absolute and sure. Tainted blood manifests itself in the form of Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatic Pains, Stiff or Swollen Joints, Eruptions or Copper-colored Spots on the Face or Body, Little Ulcers in the Mouth or on the Tongue, Sore Throat, Swollen Tonsils, Falling out of the Hair or Eyebrows, and finally a Leprous-Like Decay of the Flesh and Bones. If you have any one of these symptoms don't delay till too late, but go to your druggist and get a bottle of

Through the Skin TO THE BLOOD.

Some of the most stubborn diseases enter into the system through the pores of the skin. The juices of Poison Oak and Ivy and other noxious wild plants, when taken into the circulation, break out afresh each season, and linger on for years unless antitoxin and driven out of the system.

Dye Poisoning from wearing colored under-clothing and hosiery is of frequent occurrence.

Workers in Lead, Brass, and other metals are often poisoned by the chemicals and acids used in polishing, and the dust and filings settling upon the skin. The diseases that enter the system by absorption or through the pores are as deep-seated and dangerous as any, and cannot be reached by washes, salves, soaps or other external remedies. The blood must be purified before getting permanently rid of the disease. S. S. S. acts upon the blood, ridding it of the original poison and restoring it to a healthy, normal condition.

S. S. S. is guaranteed entirely vegetable, and an unrivaled blood purifier. With all impurities removed from the blood, the sores and eruptions disappear from the skin. Write us should you desire medical advice or any information about your case; this will cost you nothing.

POISON OAK FOR EIGHT YEARS.

When eight years old I was poisoned by handling poison oak, and it would break out on me every spring for eighteen years. Some one recommended S. S. S., which cured me completely, and I have seen no signs of the eruptions for several seasons.

POLICE BOARD

ROUTINE BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

The police commissioners, who were in session yesterday afternoon at press time, in addition to electing Scott Ferguson and Dick Woods extra policemen, elected Officer Gus Rogers to a regular position, and accepted the resignation of Joe Lucas of Central fire station, whose position they did not fill. Chief Wood, of the fire department, was instructed to require Mr. George Bernhard to have the flues in some houses he is building constructed properly or to get a warrant for him.

General Manager George C. Wallace and Superintendent Gus Thompson, of the street railway company, were granted special police powers. They are frequently on cars when people attempt to impose on the company and its patrons, and hereafter will not have to call police officers, but will make arrests themselves.

It will also enable them to stop the practice of jumping on moving cars, especially at the baseball game, where it is dangerous.

SCHOOL BOARD

Adjourned Meeting Held Last Night by Trustees.

New Teachers Elected—Other Business Before the Board.

An adjourned meeting of the board of education was held last night at the high school building, and salaries due teachers for June were allowed.

Three more white teachers and one colored teacher were elected. These were: Misses Elizabeth Chapeze, Laura Thomas and Angeline Bowles, of the white schools, and Sallie Lowry for the colored schools. There are about fourteen teachers yet to elect, and the election will probably be held after the examinations this month.

The report of the financial result of the commencement exercises, white and colored, was filed with the board last night and shows a nice profit in the entertainments for the board.

The white commencement after all expenses had been paid brought a profit of $55.30 while the colored commencement showed a profit of $23.45.

Superintendent Leib filed a report stating that 22 out of the 37 teachers employed in the white schools, had gone or would go to some normal school for the summer. This is something that has never occurred before, not more than half a dozen teachers of local schools ever attending a summer school to advance their teaching methods. Under this new rule of grades certificates where teachers are paid by the class of certificates held, teachers will put forth efforts to learn the latest and best methods of teaching and will thus better the facilities of the schools. This idea was introduced by Superintendent Leib, who is an energetic, up-to-date and capable man.

HUNGRY CROWD

PICNIC PARTY GOES TO ONE COLD SPRINGS AND DINNER TO ANOTHER.

A picnic party from the Broadway Methodist Sunday school, chaperoned by Jailer Fayette Jones, went to Cold Springs near Clark's river yesterday, and had rather an unpleasant experience.

It seems that the party ordered the lunch baskets sent out in an express wagon, to follow the wagons carrying the picnicers. The order was given to the express driver to carry the baskets to Cold Springs.

As dinner time drew near, however, and no baskets appeared, some one remembered that the locality of the Cold Springs to which they had gone, had not been given, and that there was another place of similar name and much better known near Maxons Mill, in another part of the county. It developed that the baskets had been taken there, and it was late in the afternoon before the hungry pleasure seekers got any dinner.

CAR TRANSFERS

STREET CAR COMPANY WILL BEGIN SYSTEM NEXT MONTH IF POSSIBLE.

The street car company, in compliance with the franchise ordinance passed two years ago will about the first of July begin transferring from the original Paducah street railway lines on Broadway, Third, Sixth, Trimble and Jackson streets, to the former Rowlandtown line, if the street paving on Fourth street is complete. It would be impossible to transfer at present on account of there being a gap of two blocks in the Rowlandtown line.

As soon as the paving is finished, however, the transfer system will be inaugurated and it will be welcomed by many people whose car fare to and from work now amounts to a great deal in the course of a month.

ACONTINUAL STRAIN.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vigor and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." ## DANGEROUS WELLS

Horse in the Commons Falls into Old Hole.

Mail Carriers and Others Succeed in Rescuing the Animal.

There are two deep wells in the commons in the rear of the railroad hospital and yesterday a negro's horse fell into one of them and came near going to the bottom before assistance was secured.

Mr. Tom Roberts, the mail carrier, was passing through the commons when he heard a great crash and looking around saw the horse struggling to extricate itself from the hole. The well was originally 80 feet deep but has been partially filled with debris and was covered by a small piece of tin.

Colored people near assisted Mr. Roberts in getting the horse out but the animal was badly skinned and cut up. The city authorities have been notified of the wells and will at once see that they are filled up before some one falls in and causes a damage suit against the city.

Where It Is Always Leap Year.

In one part of "all the Russias," the province of Ukraine, it is always leap year as far as the female privilege of proposing is concerned. It is said to be customary there when a young woman falls in love with a man for her to go to his father's house and in the most tender and pathetic manner plead with the young man to take her as his wife. She promises the most submissive obedience to his will if he will but accept her. If the young man says, "I beg that you will excuse me from this," she tells him that she is resolved not to depart until he shall promise to take her for better or worse. She accordingly takes up her abode there and remains until he is wooed and won or until he ends the siege by fleeing to parts unknown.

From the Chinese.

Here is a famous passage from the writings of a Chinese philosopher. More than twenty centuries ago it gained the author the sobriquet of "Butterfly Chung." The philosopher tells of a dream: "Once upon a time I, Chung Tzu, dreamed I was a butterfly, fluttering hither and thither, to all intents and purposes a butterfly. I was conscious only of following my fancy as a butterfly and was unconscious of my individuality as a man. Suddenly I awakened and there I lay, myself again. Now, I do not know whether I was then a man dreaming I was a butterfly or whether I am now a butterfly dreaming I am a man."

The Speed of Sense.

Hirsch proved that a touch on the face was recognized by the brain and responded to by a mutual signal in the one-seventh part of a second. The scientist also found that the speed of sense differed for different organs, the sense of hearing being responded to in the one-sixth of a second, while that of sight required only one-fifth of a second to be recognized and signaled. In all three cases the distance traversed was about the same, so the natural inference is that the image travels more slowly than sound or touch.

The Oak.

The oak chooses a horizontal direction for its limbs so that their whole weight may tell and then stretches them out fifty or sixty feet so that the strain may be mighty enough to be worth resisting. At 90 degrees the oak stops short. To slant upward another degree would mark infirmity of purpose; to bend downward, weakness of organization. Other trees shrink the work of resisting gravity. The oak defies it.—Dr. Holmes.

The Peacock at the Feast.

Brehm informs us that the flesh of the young peacock is very delicate and has "a wild odor" which is very agreeable. He thinks an old bird fit only for stewing. The Greeks must have found it marvelous costly feeding if it be true, as Aelian says, that a single bird was worth a thousand drachmas—nearly $60. The esteem in which it was held in the last days of the Roman republic did not diminish under the imperial regime.

Vitellius and Hellogabalus served up to their boon companions enormous dishes of peacocks' tongues and brains seasoned with the rarest Indian spices. In mediaeval days it was still held in favor, particularly as a Christmas dish, and minstrels sang of it as "food for lovers and meat for lords."

To fit it for the table was no ordinary culinary operation. After the skin and plumage had been carefully stripped off the bird was roasted, then served up again in its feathers with gilded beads. No, I have forgotten that it was first stuffed with spices and sweet herbs and basted with yolk of egg. It floated in a sea of gravy, as many as three fat wethers sometimes supplying the unctuous liquor for a single peacock.—All the Year Round.

"Save the Mark."

The ancient use of a cross instead of a signature was universal alike by those who could and by those who could not write. It was a symbol of an oath from its earliest associations. On this account Charles Knight, in his notes on "The Pictorial Shakespeare," explains the expression "God save the mark" (Henry IV.) as a form of ejaculation approaching to the form of an oath. Kelly, in his "Comments on Scotch Proverbs," observes that the Scots, when they used to compare person to person, used the expression, "Save the mark." Another explanation of the expression is that in archery when an archer shot well it was the custom to cry out, "God save the mark"—that is, prevent any one coming after to hit the same mark and thereby displace the arrow. Ironically, it was said to a novice whose arrow struck nowhere.

Blood as a Tree Fertilizer.

For several seasons a very ancient walnut, with long, gaunt boughs, carrying much dead wood, had been struggling to live, but each year manifested signs that its life was fast disappearing. The keeper in front of whose house the tree stood took to slinging the carcass of each deer he killed over one of its boughs for dressing. During the process all the blood dripped on the ground and was absorbed. The following spring this tree put forth an astonishing crop of leaves, and in less than three seasons it was making new wood and showing all the vigor which had characterized it thirty years before. Its renewed youth was entirely attributable to the fertilizing properties of the blood with which it had been so liberally dressed.—Country Gentleman.

Good Humor.

According to ancient theory, there are four principal humors in the body—blood, phlegm, choler and melancholy. The predominance of any one determined the temper; hence the expression "choleric humor," etc. A nice balance made a good compound called an ill or bad humor.

Had Misjudged Him.

"Does your father ever kiss your mamma, Willie?" asked the lady who had once been the gentleman's sweetheart.

"Yes, every morning when he goes away to the city."

"Dear me! And to think that I once doubted his courage!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Her Curiosity.

"Mrs. Chellus looks bad, doesn't she?" "Yes, and no wonder. She's been awake every night for a week past."

"The idea! What was the matter?" "She discovered about a week ago that her husband talks in his sleep, and of course she had to listen."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Novice at the Business.

"I suppose you had a perfectly lovely time at Wexford's house party?" "No, it was a fizzle. Mrs. Wexford has so little tact. She was always arranging it so that the men would have to pair off with their own wives."—Exchange.

Emotion turning back on itself and not leading on to thought or action is the element of madness.—J. Sterling.

I received a sample bottle of Zoa Flora, which I took according to directions, and thought it was just what I needed, so I threw the doctor's medicine away and got a large bottle of Zoa Flora. It helped me so much that I bought two more bottles, and now I am well and strong. ## BOY LOST

HIS FATHER ASKS ASSISTANCE OF POLICE TO FIND HIM.

Mr. Walter Gordon, who lives on the South Side, started his little son up Third street yesterday afternoon late on a street car with instructions to get off at the Rescue Mission and meet a friend from the country, who would take him home.

The boy was supposed to go to the country with the friend, but evidently did not do so as he did not leave the car at the Mission house. Officers were notified of the matter and are on the lookout for the youngster. His father fears he has been lost.

BY SATURDAY

WATER MAY BE LOW ENOUGH TO ATTEMPT TO RAISE THE CHATTANOOGA.

The river is still too high to attempt raising the sunken steamer Chattanooga, at the Big Chain in Tennessee river, fifteen miles above Paducah, but at the rate the water is receding at present it is thought the stage will be low enough by Saturday to make the attempt.

The boat will be harder to raise now than when first wrecked because of the amount of mud which has settled in her, and few except the insurance men think she can be raised.

THE BOWLING GREEN CASE.

The Democratic papers are apparently wrought up over the contest for county judge in the eighth judicial district, and in the reports from Bowling Green telling of the investigation the whole snap is given away.
One dispatch to a Democratic paper
from Bowling Green says:"Special Judge Osborne today opened the ballot box of the 'Gas House' precinct, a Republican stronghold, and counted the ballots. The ballots showed Judge Bradburn, Democrat, received 241 votes and Judge Galloway only 13. The election officers at the close of the polls certified Galloway received 153 votes and Bradburn 119. Instead of Judge Galloway having a majority of 33 in this precinct the count today gives Judge Bradburn a majority of 228."In the Kister Mill precinct, another Republican precinct, Judge Galloway on the fact of the returns carried it by 57 majority, but the count of the ballots in court gave Bradburn
a majority of 53 instead of the 57 certified by the election officers for Galloway."The Democrats are of course trying to lead people to think that the Republicans didn't get the votes the certified returns showed, and were trying to steal the office. If anyone, however, can give any reasonable explanation of how the Democratic candidate could get 241 votes and the Republicans only 13, in an acknowledged "Republican stronghold," except by stuffing the ballot box with Democratic votes, he must be a mighty able legislator.There does not appear to be any valid excuse for postponing the erection of the new market house until next year. Postponements are what have already ruined the administration. It makes no difference whether this season of the year for building it suits the butcher, the baker and candlestick maker, or not. The market house is not supposed to be built to suit them or to be built at the season that suits them. The market house is intended for the use and benefit of the public, and the sooner
it is on it begins the better for the people. The $25,000 for building it is as good as soon as the bondsare floated, and the taxpayers will begin paying interest on it. They should get the use of it as soon as possible.Governor Peabody says there can't be any more rough houses in his state,
and he is dumping the alleged disturbances onto his neighbors.Possibly the administration would like to use the $300,000 bond money to pay off the impending deficit, and for that reason wants to defer street
work and the building of the new market house and city hospital until next year.The sanitary sewerage that the business men's council built several years ago has sufficed for at least one thing.
Every hole in the street and every elevation or depression resulting from earthquake, lightning, epidemic,
plague, disaster, accident, bum street
work, neglect and incompetency is attributed to the "sewer ditches." The Democrats cannot deny that the sewerage has at least done them this much good.This is Kentucky day at the world's fair, and it may be counted on that the Future Great will know we're there, even if the refreshment stands don't have to use an extra relay of "barkeepers."The board of public works should employ a force of workmen for the sole purpose of keeping in repair the depressions that daily show up in the new paved streets.The Kentucky Press association has decided to allow no one to accompany it on its annual trips hereafter except those actually engaged in newspaper work. This seems to be a good idea, but if enforced the association might as well disband, as few of the real newspaper workers of the state have time or inclination to go.Colonel Bryan is not satisfied to shoot at New York Democracy at long range. He is going to New York to speak against Parker and help the silver element to get up a counter convention for St. Louis. Democratic harmony increases."Elijah" Dowie is coming back to the United States on the first ship.
London is disgusted with him. He has convinced all the countries he has visited that here in America we do everything on a large scale—even the humbugging.The Courier-Journal says the platform to be adopted by the Republicans "has been duly censored and approved," and might as well be given out now. It may be true that the Republican platform has been prepared, as Republican leaders know what the people want and the country
needs, and always work in harmony.
But the Democrats can't truthfully say the same of their own. No one can tell what the Democrats are going to do because they don't know themselves. They will simply meet and trust to luck for the rest.

WORLD'S RECORD

MAY BE BROKEN TODAY BY
THE PADUCAH TEAM.It is claimed by those versed in baseball lore that if Paducah wins the two games with Hopkinsville today,
she will break the world's record for straight winning. Should she win both games today it will make fifteen straight games she has taken. All that kept it from being nineteen straights was one game she lost to Henderson before she struck her winning streak.Freeman will probably pitch both games for Paducah today.USE...

WAS A NATIVE OF IOWA

William Drummond, a marine engineer well known in river circles in Paducah and on the upper Mississippi river, dropped dead in the rear of the Klondyke saloon, between Second and Third on Kentucky avenue, this morning about 9 o'clock of heart disease.Drummond had been ill for several months, and fell over in a faint at the same place about four months ago.
He was taken to the city hospital and had been out but a few weeks.The deceased roomed over the saloon and this morning came down and asked for a drink of whiskey which was given him. He went into a back room and sat down in a chair. Shortly after this the colored porter noticed him gasping and ran to his assistance.
Drummond fell over dead before the porter reached him.He was about 55 years of age and was once married, securing a divorce from his wife several years ago. He leaves a son and daughter in Pickwick, Minn., who have been telegraphed of his death. Drummond originally lived in Dubuque, Iowa,
but for ten years had made Paducah
his home.Coroner William Peal will this afternoon at 3 o'clock hold an inquest and will hold the remains until an answer is secured from his children.

lam, of Bowling Green.Would-Be Suicide May Have to Be Sent to the Asylum.The police are at a loss to know what to do with James Gillam who has several times attempted self-destruction because he says his sweetheart has gone back on him.Gillam is still being held in the city prison until some word from his father is secured, and if the father fails to send for him or do anything for lunacy. The police think the boy is unbalanced, but only temporarily
so, and with the attention of relatives he would probably recover. He has made no further attempts at self destruction since yesterday morning
early.

SMALL POX FOUND

VERY BAD CASE DISCOVERED
ON SOUTH THIRD STREET
TODAY.Dr. Horace Rivers, who is an expert on smallpox, was today called to the home of Mr. Will Walker on South Third street near Norton, to diagnose the illness of Mr. Walker's son. He found the young man suffering from a very malignant case of smallpox,
and thinks that recovery is unlikely.
The house was immediately quarantined, the victim being too ill to be taken to the pest house. It is claimed that a number of cases of smallpox in that neighborhood have been thought to be chickenpox recently, and that the young man was exposed to one of these.

BOY ACQUITTED

JAMES BALLARD TRIED BEFORE JUDGE LIGHTFOOT FOR PETTY LARCENY.County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning tried the case against James Ballard, white, charged with the theft of a suit of clothes from a man named Baresfield several weeks ago, and dismissed the charge.Baresfield claimed the boy stole the clothes from his home, where Ballard had been staying, and Justice Young held the boy over to the higher court,
but Judge Lightfoot did not think the evidence strong enough to convict. The witnesses were mostly colored people who thought they saw the boy with the suit on.

OTHER LOCAL LABOR NOTES

The Illinois Central boilermakers' strike situation remains unchanged
and so far no orders have been sent here for the employment of men to replace the strikers or no men have been sent here to work.Mr. R. J. Turnbull, local master mechanic, stated this morning that he had received more than forty letters from boilermakers all over the state and in other states asking for positions, but would not employ any one until he received orders more definite than the notice sent out by Second Vice President J. T. Harahan, who stated the road would employ other men if the strikers did not return to work by yesterday.Mr. Turnbull stated that he can within 24 hours secure fifty men to work in the boiler shops and that it will be no trouble to the road at all to secure substitutes for the strikers. Of course, he explained, the company preferred its old employees, but if they refused to return to work, other steps had to be taken as the road could not suffer a general tie up of railroad motive power.Central Labor Union of Paducah will shortly elect officers for the year and the first nomination will be made tomorrow night at the regular meeting. It cannot be predicted who will be elected this year, as all the delegates from various unions have not yet been named by their respective unions. The officers are elected from the regular delegates. Mr. Harry George, the present president, will not be one of the delegates the coming year, hence he will retire as president.The Illinois Central blacksmiths, who decided to withdraw from Central Labor Union, as the other shop unions did to form the Trades Council, last night reconsidered and decided to affiliate with the Central Labor Union, and elected three delegates to the central body, Messrs. Charles Hart, A. B. Schofield and J. C.
Schroeder.The car builders of the Illinois Central held a meeting last night and heard a final report on the conference recently held at Jackson, Tenn.,
with Superintendent of Machinery William Renshaw. The report was concurred in, and agreements signed up for 1904.The Carpenters union last night
held a meeting and elected officers for the year, as follows: T. H.
Wallace, president; L. B. Langston, vice president; Will Artz, recording secretary; Lon Crandell, financial secretary; T. A. Clark, treasurer; Messrs. Langston, and Eugene Tuttle
were elected trustees, and Messrs.
O. B. Crandell, Eugene Tuttle and R. S. Menifee were elected delegates to Central Labor union.The Illinois Central machinists committee which is meeting in Chicago to arrange a new scale of pay for the coming year, has reached no agreement with the officials, it is said, although several rumors have been afloat saying they had settled.
Mr. E. B. Salisbury is the local delegate and left here Sunday for Chicago to attend the meeting. The machinists want an increase of two cents per hour and a new agreement. The raise asked for is not as great as the boilermakers and it is thought the company will grant it.

A VOICE FROM THE TOMB.

It Spoke in a Dream and Told a Tale of Chastity and Horror.The Rev. Mr. Partridge was once the vicar of a parish in the suburbs of London. He had the misfortune to lose a favorite son, whose body was interred in a vault in the church. Two nights after the interment Mr. Partridge dreamed that he saw his son,
habited in a shroud spotted with blood,
the expression of his countenance being that of a person enduring some paroxysm of acute pain."Father, father," he cried, "come and defend me! They will not let me rest quiet in my coffin!"The apparition was so vivid that the dreamer awoke, trembling from excitement. He argued with himself that it was the result of the grief he felt on account of his son's death and after awhile managed to overcome his agitation and go to sleep again. But it seemed to him that he scarcely lost consciousness when the vision reappeared, beseeching more piteously than before that his father would come to his aid, as they were "mangling his body at that instant." The tortured man slept no more that night and at the break of day repaired to the clerk's house, where the keys of the vault were kept. Here he was informed that the key to the main door
had been broken and the clerk's son had gone to the smith's to have a new one made. Impelled by the worst instincts, the vicar procured a crowbar, by means of which the hinges of the door were wrenched off.The sight that greeted him caused the father to fall fainting to the floor.
His son's coffin had been lifted from the recess and placed on the brick pavement. The lid lay loose on the top. The body, enveloped in its shroud, on which were several spots of blood
below the chin, was exposed to view.
The broad ribbon had been removed from below the jaw, which hung down with a most ghastly horror of expression, and every tooth in the head had been drawn. The youth while living had possessed a beautiful set of teeth.
The clerk's son, who was both a barber and a dentist, had obtained possession of the vault keys for the purpose of extracting the teeth for use in his business.—London Mail.

Sacred Cats.

The ancient Egyptians worshipped the goddess Sechet, a creature with a human body and a cat's head. Sechet's shrine was at the once famous city of Bubastis. Hither an average of 700, 600 devotees resorted annually, each district delegation taking all the dead cats which had "quitted the sphere of action" in their respective localities during the year. These dead cats, all of which were carefully wrapped and embalmed, were buried at the celebrated "cat cemetery," on the plains of Zakazik, that being the place where the image of Sechet was set up. One of the greatest curiosities of present day
Egypt are the catacombs, where the remains of these countless thousands of cats are to be seen, each wrapped in linen and sealed up in a red earthenware jar.

The Ruling Passion.

A gambler, on his deathbed, having seriously taken leave of his physician,
who told him that he could not live beyond 8 o'clock next morning, exorted the small strength he had left to call the doctor back, which having accomplished with difficulty, for he could hardly exceed a whisper, "Doctor,"
said he, "I'll bet you 5 guineas I live till 9."—London Tit-Bits.At the beginning of the nineteenth century the Bible was current in some forty languages—today in some 400.
It is necessary to use sixty different sets of types to print in these many tongues, while some fifty languages require to be printed in more characters than one to be legible to all races
and creeds in that particular country.
Again, to translate the Bible into one foreign tongue is in itself a work of more than a lifetime very often. What must be then the labor required to learn some barbaric tongue which has no writing, no characters or alphabet
of its own and to supply all deficiencies before the task of translation can begin? Moreover, the Biblical metaphors and similes have to be altered and made comprehensible to un-tutored minds. One translator, Henry Nott by name, spent twenty years in Tahiti to learn the language, after which he spent another twenty years
in translating the book into the Ta-
hitan tongue.—London Chronicle.NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Gentlemen:—Toward the latter part of August I found myself in a very much run-down condition. I suffered particularly from catarrh of the stomach, aggravated no doubt by the responsibilities and worry incident to the exploitation of a great international exposition. What I ate distressed me and I would lie awake at night "thrashing over," if I may use that expression, the affairs of the previous day."My family physician said I had nervous prostration and recommended
a sea voyage. I gradually grew worse.
A kind friend whom I had known in skeptical, I finally yielded to his ad-

much improved and with the fifth bottle came complete recovery. I am

THE D—FOOL VOTE.

How Champ Clark Won Precinct by Daring Rejoinder.

Congressman Champ Clark usually manages to take pretty good care of himself, whatever the circumstances. During one of his campaigns in Missouri he struck an exceptionally hostile neighborhood. He had been subjected to several interruptions, and finally a burly fellow strode down to the front of the platform and said:

"Say, you're a d— fool, and everybody here knows it!"

Clark's face actually became radiant at this announcement. He leaned over, and before the bewildered spectator who had hurled the epithet could think, seized his hand and wrung it warmly. Then, facing his audience squarely, said:

"The remark of my friend here has given me renewed encouragement. If before I had any shadow of doubt as to my success, he has dispelled it, for if I poll the full d— fool vote of this precinct, I will be elected by a rousing majority."

Clark afterward said he knew he was taking long chances. But the audience went wild over the rejoinder, and the Congressman really did carry the precinct when election day rolled around.—Baltimore Herald.

RUBBED IT IN

GOOD ADVICE THAT WAS OVERLOOKED.

Good advice, like experience, has to be "rubbed in" sometimes for we don't pay attention to it until two or three friends tell us the same thing.

A Tampa woman who believed that coffee was hurting her and her husband wouldn't be convinced until nature had forced the truth home. Then they quit, as she says:

"My love for coffee was so strong, to give it up seemed impossible until my nerves were completely shattered when we finally found the condition of both of us so serious we decided something must be done.

"Our ministers' wife had recommended Postum to us a few years before as the finest food drink made and advised us to try it if coffee was hurting us, but we forgot all about the good lady's advice and when we finally broke down under coffee we shifted to tea but soon found we were just as bad off as ever. Then we used simple 'kettle tea' or hot water until about eight months ago we were strongly urged to get some Postum which we did and, my, wasn't it a surprise.

"What a delicious drink that first cup of Postum was, so satisfying and such a wonderful relief, for we need a hot drink at meal times provided it is healthful and not a stimulant. It was perfectly delightful, with no bad effects following, and from that time husband and I have improved steadily in health and spirits, while we enjoy our Postum so much we have said good bye to old coffee forever.

"By following the directions on the package closely that's the only way Postum makes a beautiful rich coffee color, and when made that way I don't believe the most fastidious coffee drinker in the world would pass it aside. The surest way is to follow the directions." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Theatrical Notes.

"A Game for a Million" is the name of the farce which will be played this evening at Wallace park theater. Last night there was another large crowd at the park to witness the second presentation of "The Diamond Mystery" and the members of the company have immediately become very popular. This company is far above the average summer stock company, which anyone readily agrees after seeing it.

On Friday and Saturday nights that beautiful story of "Hazel Kirke" will be told at the park and no one should miss the opportunity to see this piece as it has not been played in this city before.

Make Munitions of War.

Suggestion for Prudent Men

To the average man five or ten dollars a month saved appears too insignificant to pay for the effort, yet a laying aside of ten dollars each month the judicious investment of it may prove the beginning of a fortune. These ends are accomplished through the LEVEL PREMIUM SIX-YEAR BONDS of the Southern Mutual Investment Company of Lexington, Kentucky, which specifies the length of the investment period, seventy-four months, consequently the company may pay longer term securities than savings banks, which pay larger profits and are at the same time just as safe. The Southern Mutual Investment Company distributes all earnings amongst investors, in proportion to their investments. Furthermore, this company handles only the safest securities, taking no speculative chances, so that there is no possibility of loss to the bondholder, and he is further protected by the company's deposit of $100,000 with the Kentucky State Treasurer. The facts that all officers and employees are heavily bonded in Fidelity Insurance, and the business is controlled by state laws and under the supervision of state officials.

One unusually attractive feature of the Level Premium Six-Year Bond is that the redemption of coupons during the term of the contract secures an income to the bondholder, which, of course, may be compounded by reinvesting—a thing not accomplished under any other form of installment investment.

Men in any station of life may buy these bonds, and every one receives returns in absolute proportion to the size of the investment. The bond may be paid for by monthly installments of as little as $2.25, and any multiple of $2.25 may be invested.

This company, with its past experience and present earnings as criteria, estimates that on a net investment of $7.40 (extending over a period of twenty-four months) in this bond, the holder should receive a profit of $20.33-1/3.

Does any other institution, affording the same security, pay as great a profit in an equal period of time?

Inside Inn Accommodations

YOU CAN LIVE AT THIS HOTEL AND SEE THE WORLD'S FAIR AS MANY DAYS AS YOU LIKE WITHOUT LEAVING THE GROUNDS.

RATES EXTREMELY MODEST.

One of the unique privileges to be enjoyed by thousands of World's Fair guests is that of living at a hotel inside the grounds during their stay at the Exposition. No other exposition has afforded such a privilege. This hotel, aptly named "The Inside Inn," has a capacity of 6,000 guests. Its enormous size attracts great attention. It is located near the southeastern corner of the grounds, close to an intramural railway station, and in easy walking distance of the "main picture" of the Fair.

The Inside Inn is to be conducted under the supervision of the World's Fair officials, who fix the prices for accommodations—rooms, meals, etc. Thus it may be seen that there can be no extortion whatever. Every guest registering at the hotel will know exactly what price he must pay per day for his room or rooms and for his meals. The guest pays his way into the World's Fair grounds—fifty cents. If he stops at the Inside Inn the hotel rates include the daily price of admission.

There is great demand for rooms at the Inside Inn, the bookings having been in progress for several months. There are 2,257 rooms; they range in price from $1.50 to $2.50 per day, rooms with bath costing from $3.50 to $5.50. All these rates include the price of admission to the Fair after the first admission fee of fifty cents is paid at the gate. Single meals at the Inn will cost as follows: Breakfast, 50 cents; luncheon, 50 cents; evening dinner, 75 cents. There is also a service a la carte at very reasonable rates. Guests who desire to obtain accommodations on the American plan may do so, at fixed rates, according to location of room.

Every convenience usually found at a first class hotel is to be provided at the Inside Inn, and those who stay there during their visit will have the advantage of barber shop, bath, lounging rooms, parlors, cool verandas and other privileges.

NAPOLEON, As Seen by His Associates

THE "LITTLE CORPORAL" AND HIS SOLDIERS

(Copyright, 1904, by G. L. Kilmer.)

NAPOLÉON'S personal relations with his soldiers were a powerful factor in his career. Although dictatorial and even tyrannical in the extreme, the great war lord kept in close touch with "the man with the musket." Says Caulaincourt in his souvenirs of the field, "None of the 'old mustaches' (soldiers of the Guard) would have dared to speak to the humblest subaltern with the freedom that he showed to the redoubtable head of the army." This peculiar phase of camp life is emphasized by Meneval in his memoirs as follows:

"In the camp all etiquette was banished in the entirely military relations between the sovereign and his comrades in arms. The private was authorized to leave the ranks on presenting arms and to lay any request he might have to make before the emperor either verbally or in writing."

The Duc de Dalmatie treats the subject in greater detail by recalling a scene on the field at Austerlitz, as described by her husband, General Junot:

"The night before the battle the emperor directed Junot, Duroc and Berthier to put on their cloaks and follow him, as he was going round to see that all was arranged as he wished. The bivouac fires were surrounded by soldiers, among whom there were many of the brave Guards who were afterward nicknamed the Groggnards (Groggnards). They were singing and talking, and many of them were engaged in recounting the splendid victories of Italy and of Egypt. The emperor, wrapped up in his redingote grise, passed along unperceived. He listened to their conversation, smiled and seemed greatly affected. Suddenly he passed a bivouac the fire of which, gleaming full in his face, discovered him. 'The emperor!' exclaimed the whole group. 'Vive l'empereur! Vive l'empereur!' responded the next. Along the whole line, in the bivouac and under the tents, the cry of 'Vive l'empereur!' passed from mouth to mouth and rent the air. The fires were immediately deserted, for the soldiers rushed forward to behold their well beloved chief. They took the straw from their beds and, lighting it, made torches with which they illumined the gloom of the night, still shouting 'Vive l'empereur!' with that heartfelt enthusiasm which neither authority, seduction nor corruption can ever repress. Napoleon was moved. 'Enough, my lads; enough of this,' he said. But these proofs of attachment afforded him the liveliest pleasure, and his heart responded to them. 'Ah, you seek glory!' exclaimed an old soldier with mustachios which would have followed him cheerfully barefooted and without provisions. Such was the enthusiasm, or, rather, the fanaticism, which Napoleon could inspire among his troops when he thought proper to rouse them."

But that was legitimate and commonplace in contrast with what follows:

"When he reviewed the troops he asked the officers and often the soldiers in what battles they had been engaged, and to those who had received serious wounds he gave the cross. Here, I think, I may appropriately mention a singular piece of chivalry to which the emperor had recourse and which powerfully contributed to augment the enthusiasm of his troops. He would say to one of his aids-de-camp: 'Ascertain from the colonel of such a regiment whether he has in his corps a man who has served in the campaigns of Italy or the campaigns of Egypt. Ascertain his name, where he was born, the particulars of his family and what he has done. Learn his number in the ranks and to what company he belongs and furnish me the information.'"

"On the day of the review Bonaparte at a single glance could perceive the man who had been described to him. He would go up to him as if he recognized him, address him by his name and say: 'Oh, so you are here! You are a brave fellow. I saw you at Austerlitz. How is your old father? What! Have you not got the cross? Stay; I will give it you.' Then the delighted soldiers would say to each other: 'You see, the emperor knows us all. He knows our families. He knows where we have served.' What a stimulus was this to soldiers whom he succeeded in persuading that they would all some time or other become marshals of the empire!"

Appeals to baser motives than thirst for glory were resorted to, as proved by Napoleon's own words:

"Soldiers, you are naked and badly fed. The government owes you much and can give you nothing. Your patience and courage amid these trials are admirable, but they gain for you no glory, no reputation. I will lead you to the most fertile plains in the world. Rich provinces, large towns, will be in your power. You will there find honor, wealth and glory. Soldiers of the army of Italy, are you falling in courage and constancy?"

Recalling in after years those days of his novitiate, he said:

"I set out for Italy with ill trained soldiers, who were, however, full of zeal and daring. In the midst of the troops I had wagons placed and escorted on the march as though they were empty. These I called the treasure chests of the army. I put in the order of the day that shoes should be distributed to the recruits. No one would wear them. I promised my soldiers that fortune and glory should await us behind the Alps. I kept my word, and ever since then the army would follow me to the end of the world."

But woe to the individual soldiers who took their chieftain's promises of fortune seriously. Meneval tells how he had some of his best fighters shot for their excesses and adds:

"I cannot refrain in connection with this act of severe justice to rebuke the accusation brought against Napoleon of having tolerated disorder in his armies by a kind of tacit understanding between himself and his soldiers, who, resembling in this the undisciplined hordes of the middle ages, were said to serve their chief only because of his tolerance of their excesses. His orders of the day enjoined the greatest respect for property and scolded those who tolerated disorder."

A paragraph in one of Napoleon's general orders on discipline reads:

"Generals of division are authorized to shoot at once any officers or soldiers who by their example excite others to pillage and thereby destroy discipline, spread disorder in the army and compromise its safety and its glory."

The same order provides summary punishment for various breaches of military discipline, showing that Napoleon's popularity was not due to toleration. Abnormal in every sense at most, Napoleon still had that touch of human nature which wins the hearts of men. An aid-de-camp once lost some dispatches intended for the emperor. "Put him under arrest for a few days," he wrote to the general in authority. "An aid-de-camp may lose his breeches on a journey, but not his sword or papers."

One day on review the emperor lost control of his horse, and his famous time worn hat fell at the feet of a lieutenant of some ordinary command. Picking up the hat, the young subaltern stepped from his place and handed it to Napoleon. "Thanks, captain," said the emperor. "In what regiment, Sir?" asked the lucky junior, with alacrity.

A second glance convinced Napoleon that the confusion of the moment had led to a mistake in the officer's rank, and he met the fellow's assumption in taking the words literally by equal promptness.

"Ah, that is so, monsieur. In the Guard."

A commission in the Guard, the emperor's favorite corps, was a prize that men risked death to win.

seemed never to have been cut since the first passage of the Alps. 'Well, tomorrow the good soldiers of the Guard will purchase it to crown your anniversary.' 'What are you growling about under those thick mustachios?' said the emperor, approaching the old grenadier with one of those smiles which in him were so captivating. The grenadier, like most of his comrades, held in his hand a torch of straw, whose light revealed his swarthy scarred face, the expression of which was at that moment most remarkable. The emperor repeated his question. 'Faith, my general—that is, Sir,' replied the soldier, 'I only say that we will thrash those rascals of Russians—that is, if you desire it, for discipline before everything. So vive l'empereur!'

Bourrienne gives another side to the picture in describing how Napoleon worked up the enthusiasm of his troops by skillfully prepared proclamations: "When Bonaparte dictated his proclamations he was for the moment inspired, and he evinced all the excitement which distinguishes the Italian improvisatore. To follow him it was necessary to write with inconceivable rapidity. When I have read over to him what he has dictated I have often known him to smile triumphantly at the effect which he expected any particular phrase would produce. In general his proclamations turned on three distinct points—(1) praising his soldiers for what they had done, (2) pointing out to them what they had yet to do, and (3) abusing his enemies. The soldiers frequently could not understand what Napoleon said in these proclamations, but no matter for that; they
